

PART VI

MIRROR IMAGES AND REFLECTIONS

EXERCISE 6-A

Imagine two mirrors set up as shown in Figure 1. As you can see they reflect a letter placed between them three times. The challenge of this exercise is to fill in the three reflections of each of the letters below. The letter A has already been done as an example.

EXERCISE 6-C

Imagine two mirrors set up as shown in Figure 1. As is shown, they reflect a word placed between them, three times. The challenge of this exercise is to write in the words given in each figure as they would appear reflected in such a mirror arrangement. The word BOY is already done as an example.

EXERCISE 6-D

Each of the "clock faces" below is a mirror image of the real clock. Can you tell what time the real clock shows in each case?

EXERCISE 6-E

Can you read what it says below without looking in a mirror?

Asked what changes we could expect by the year 2000, a scientist pondered a minute, then replied, "Well, Brigitte Bardot will be 65."

A suburbanite told his neighbor: "I'm thinking of becoming a pigmist. There's too much grass in this yard for one wife to cut."

Nature had a sense of humor to let housecleaning, gardening, and spring fever come at the same time.

"I sure wish you'd let me take my bath in the morning instead of at night," my first-grade child said to me one evening. "Our teacher always asks us in Health whether or not we had a bath today, and I haven't been able to say 'yes' all year."

A civilized country is one where a person must go to a backward area in order to breathe pure, clean air.

Five homes can be built from the wood of a single 300-foot-tall West Coast redwood tree. Unfortunately, one redwood tree cannot be built from the wood of five homes.

At the ballpark I sat next to a real baseball fanatic. Without hesitation he could rattle off batting averages, home runs and runs-batted-in for every player. I was amazed. Praising him for his memory, I asked, "Do you ever forget your wedding anniversary?" "Never!" he answered. "I was married the day Bobby Thomson hit the home run that won the pennant for the Giants. I'll never forget that day."
